Georgia's Vehicle Registration and Renewal Data Base System to be Unavailable Due to Maintenance

ATLANTA—On Saturday, Dec. 9, county vehicle tag offices throughout Georgia will only be able to provide minimum service due to required maintenance being performed on the computers that house the state's motor vehicle registration and title data bases.

Beginning Friday, Dec. 8 at 7 p.m. and continuing until Monday, Dec. 11 at 6 a.m., local tag offices will not be able to contact the central data system to transact any business regarding motor vehicle registration and titling.

Internet renewal and registration will also be unavailable from Dec. 8 at 7 p.m. until Monday, Dec. 11 at 6 a.m.

It is recommend that individuals planning to conduct business at their local motor vehicle tag office on Saturday contact the office beforehand to determine if they can complete their business. All local offices should be fully operational during their normal business hours on Monday, Dec. 11.

Revenue Commissioner Bart Graham asks for everyone's understanding and patience as the Department works to make changes and improve customer service in the future.
